

Environmental Specialist / Project Manager (Woodcliff Lake, New Jersey)

RAMAKER & Associates, Inc., a 100% Employee-Owned company, is seeking an experienced environmental consultant to join our Woodcliff Lake, New Jersey office in the capacity of Environmental Specialist or Project Manager (title dependent on experience). Competitive salary and benefits are offered. Some travel is required.

In this position, you will work collaboratively to generate on-time, technically sound deliverables. Some of the key responsibilities include:

- Support and complete service deliverables including but not limited to NEPA Regulatory Compliance, Phase I and Phase II Environmental Site Assessments, Material Handling Plans, Remediation Plans, Geotechnical reports, and related ancillary services.
- Work collaboratively with an elite team and independently to meet project goals and objectives.
- Safely conduct site visits and field investigation activities for all types of real property.
- Conduct strategic research of historical and current land use.
- Review physical setting sources and apply findings to generate report conclusions.
- Participate in review of cultural and architectural resources.
- Perform other field and office duties as needed to meet project goals.

Core Competencies:

- Strive to exemplify Ramaker's core Mission and Values.
- Maintain excellent communication and participate in a team atmosphere.
- Communicate complete and concise project summaries, technical updates, and estimated completion dates upon request.

Position Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree in Geology, Environmental Science, Environmental Engineering, Chemistry, Biology / Biological Sciences, Earth Science, Archeology, Anthropology, or a related field.
- Minimum 3 years' experience in environmental consulting specific to deliverables outlined above.
- Strong technical comprehension and writing skills.
- Ability to travel, though most of the work will be completed from our Woodcliff Lake, NJ office.

RAMAKER is Team of Employee-Owners with a diverse Client base including major national corporations, developers, municipalities, and major hotel chains. The Environmental Team works closely with other RAMAKER Service Groups to fulfill Client needs. We are looking for an individual who can join our Team on a long-term basis to help further our goals of providing high quality service deliverables.

If interested in this position, please provide a writing sample along with your resume to employment@ramaker.com.